THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

A strictly impromptu affair was drummed up Halloween night and the sponsors had to break into a store to get the refreshments.

A gang of teen-agers gathered at the Broadmoor community center, thinking the place was to be open that night, but no such luck.

However, an all-points-bulletin put out by the police to all Broadmoor Property Owners association directors remedied this.

Before you could say hob-goblin, a dance was in full swing with refreshments on the way.

JOE BELLI provided the latter by entering a grocery establishment on Mission—Belli Market.

FRED SCHWEICKHARDT (he's the Jeff elementary school district director of curriculum) rubbed the 4 a.m. gremlins out of his system a weekend ago, grabbed up his "trolling" rig and set out with his pa for the waters of the Pacific in quest of Salmon.

Offering up a scrumptious sardine as enticement, it wasn't long until Fred had lured a Chinook on the end of his line.

The sunofagun weighed 33 pounds and took 25 minutes to land.

It wasn't until after the piscatorial beaut was in the boat that he discovered what he'd landed the junker on.

He had picked up his dad's plastic glass trout rod that morning by mistake. Come to find out the line was four-pound test (and whether you're a fisherman or not, using plain mathematics, it's a pretty obvious picture).

See where PAGE P. (PAT) CORNER, 68 Alexander street, former photog for THE RECORD, has gone and got hisself another daughter.

Born to Mrs. C. October 23 at St. Joseph's hospital, the No. 3 daughter weighed in at 6 lbs., 10 oz., was named Kathleen Marie.

Looks like Pat is pulling an EDDIE CANTOR on us.

Whatsis? If the Italian-American Citizens shindig at the community center Saturday goes over big, the club may get the services of HARRY JAMES at a future festive, says Club President DAN CASENTINI.

It all depends on how much support the local people give these functions, Dan explained.

Informants tell me that a certain brewery has already put up an offer of $10,000,000 (that million) towards purchase of a Major League baseball franchise if San Mateo or San Francisco county proceeds with plans to build an adequate stadium.

Just a warning: If a photog studio calls at your home and says they're going to put junior (because he's so photogenic) in advertising, don't you believe it.

Chances are about one in some several thousand that little Abercrombie or Sassafras will find his or her picture in a slick magazine.

Firm Interested In Serving Daly City

A private concern has expressed interest in operating a Daly City-Colma-Broadmoor bus line, THE RECORD learned this week.

Representatives of the firm approached City Administrator Dan Andersen earlier and indicated they plan to organize a transit company and will forward their proposal to this city.

The company would operate three 37-passenger buses as far south as the outskirts of Colma and would attempt to reach a transfer agrement with the Municipal Railway on the north.

In event an arrangement could be worked out between the interested firm and muni officials, the No. 76 bus would be abandoned.

The company's plans call for a western route (to serve the Westlake and Broadmoor areas) which would go as far as Twin Peaks Tunnel, connecting with the San Francisco line.

On the eastern route the buses would go as far as the present terminis at the Bank of America, where passengers would then transfer to the muni buses to reach San Francisco.

Serra Property To Go To San Jose Petroleum Co.

The sale of a 200 x 200 foot parcel of property on the corner of Junipero Serra boulevard and School street was announced Tuesday by Mrs. J. W. Marchbanks, owner.

The commercially-zoned property was purchased by Lionel and Grace Wachs of Oakland.

Present plans call for use of a 125 x 115 foot section of the property as a service station, to be established by the Regal Petroleum company of San Jose. Remainder of the property will be rented.

Real estate broker handling the transaction was Buckbee Thorne & Co. of San Francisco.

Martin Conlan of the legal firm of Melvin, Faulkner and Wiseman represented Mrs. Marchbanks in the sale.

City Reaches 21.9% Of Crusade Quota

Daly City climbed 4.6 percentage points towards its United Crusade goal last week to reach 21.9 per cent of the $11,829 quota.

A total of $2588.91 has been collected here to date. At this time last week $2,050.50 had been raised.

Daly City lagged a little behind the entire county, which has an overall percentage of 26.2 towards the $175,000 goal.

However, Julie Griggs, publicity chairman, said she'd "never seen anything like it in the north county. The Crusade is going over here better than any other drive in the past."

The county-wide Crusade is divided into north, central and south county.

Atherton leads the percentage race with 53.4 of its $33,088 mark already obtained.

The little community of Bayshore ranks second with 52.5 per cent of its $6643 quota.

Mrs. Griggs said Daly City was seventh percentage-wise.

BOARD VOTES LIMIT ON CHARITY DRIVES AT JEFFERSON HIGH

Discussion on replacement of school bleachers and agreement to limit philanthropic drives at the school occupied the majority of Monday night's Jefferson Union high school district board of trustees' meeting.

The board voted to limit charity drives at the school to Red Cross, San Mateo County Health

JEFF DISTRICTS MAY ENTER UNIFIED PLAN

Re-organization of Jefferson elementary and high school districts into one unified district extending from here to Millbrae may be in the offing, it was revealed this week.

The proposed unified district would include Millbrae, South San Francisco, Burlingame, San Bruno, Daly City, Colma and the present coastside area now within the Jefferson high district.

A public hearing on the proposal is scheduled to be held Monday, November 16, at 8 p.m. in Superior Court of the county courthouse in Redwood City, according to James R. Tormey, county superintendent of schools.

If decision is made to study the proposal further, a committee of all board members of the school districts involved will be organized.

Stanford Hannah, high school district superintendent, said the move would be one of efficiency in education, rather than economy. Costs for such a unified district would probably not be any lower than those existing under the present set up, he indicated.

"A better type of education would probably be offered under such a plan," he added.

Superintendent of the elementary district, H. Z. Weibel, declined to express an opinion on the proposal at this time. He said "a great deal" of study would be necessary before any concrete steps in the direction of unification could be made.

Payment of financial obligations would be one of the more complex problems brought about by unification. This, Weibel said, would be a matter for the courts to thrash out.

The school board committee, working with the district organization committee, may decide to call an election after at least three public meetings are held in which all pertinent data is discussed.

Commend James Baird For Civil Service Work

A resolution commending James Baird Sr. for his services to the city was passed unanimously by the city council Monday night.

Baird had served on the civil service board of review since 1947.

Named to fill the position vacated by Baird was Harry Bosberry, 126 Westlawn avenue. His term will expire in May, 1959.

Six Local Residents Donate Blood At Bank

Six local residents recently donated a pint of blood at the San Mateo county blood bank.

Those giving were: Ellison J. Fallen and Ralph J. Eichenbaum, first donation: Lester D. Bastedo and Ruth M. Wilson, second donation; Bernard F. McDermott, third donation; and Robert H. Klingler, fourth donation.

STOLEN CAR NABBED MINUTES AFTER ALERT

Alertness on the part of Daly City Patrolman Les Bastedo and Broadmoor officers Gale Galusha and Dick Hazen led to the arrest of three youths in a stolen car, exactly three minutes atfer the radio alert on the car theft had been broadcast.

Bastedo was sitting in his car early Tuesday morning at Junipero Serra and Pierce street writing the description of a car that had been stolen from San Francisco.

He looked up, and saw the convertible which had just been reported stolen over the radio. Meanwhile, the Broadmoor police had also caught sight of the vehicle. Within seconds Bastedo and the Broadmoor officers stopped the stolen car and apprehended the three youths.

On the 17-year-old driver of the car, Bastedo found a card which listed specific instructions on how to steal a car. They were:

1. Steal the car.
2. Change the plates.
3. Remove the metal stripping.
4. Mold the front.
5. Take off seat covers.
6. Obtain phony registration.

The car was released to its owner, Frank Bray, 696 Lisbon street, by Daly City police Thursday.

Soldavini Killed In Auto Accident

John Mario Soldavini, retired Colma auto-dealer, was killed Wednesday, when the car in which he was riding missed a turn and plunged 20 feet into an irrigation ditch near Colusa, California.

Soldavini, who lived at 75 DeSoto street in San Francisco, was a former co-owner of the Belli Motor Co., 7400 Mission street. He retired in August of 1952.

He is survived by his wife, J. Agnes Soldavini, and daughter Barbara Jean.

Injured seriously was R. J. Poltrone, San Francisco grand juror and driver of the car.

Services for Mr. Soldavini will be held at the mortuary of Julius Godeau, 41 Van Ness avenue.

Kids, 2000 Strong, Greet Halloween In Eve Of Festivities

Halloween in Daly City was a huge success for the 2000 youngsters and teen-agers that attended the recreation department Halloween parties. More that 500 teen agers enjoyed the cider, do-nuts, ice-cream and dancing at the war memorial community center, while the youngsters in costumes paraded, played games and competed for prizes.

Hand puppets were awarded to all winning contestants, while others received cracker-jack and candy. Comic movies proved to be the highlight of the evening, the recreation department reported, and the youngsters howled at the antics of Mighty Mouse and all his friends.

The department expressed its "sincerest thanks" to the "hard-working" personnel of the Jefferson Elementary School district and to the members of the following PTA and Mothers' Clubs to whom the success of the parties is attributed: Colma PTA, Hillside PTA, James Snell PTA, Woodrow Wilson PTA, General Pershing PTA, Crocker PTA and OLPH Mothers' club.

ALEMANY SIGNALS GET FINAL CITY APPROVAL

Final agreement on city-state expenditures for the Alemany signals was passed Monday night by the city council.

The Alemany project was among three gas tax fund projects approved by the city Monday.

The resolution approved by the council calls for expenditure of $86,000 by the state, $20,000 by the city, for installation of the three-way signals.

City Administrator Dan Andersen said the city was awaiting receipt of the plans any day now.

A supplementary project approved Monday was grading and paving of Brunswick street from Hillside boulevard to Wellington avenue at a cost of $20,000. Andersen said bids would probably be called for Monday.

Other project approved by the council was expenditure of $18,300 for maintenance of major city streets and secondary city streets.

Total cost of projects approved Monday was $144,900, $86,000 of which will be paid by the state.

In other business, the council:

1. Authorized payment of $1400 to Louis Baldini, architect, for services on new firehouse in Westlake.

2. Authorized payment of $1650 to City Engineer Edwin Smith for services on water system improvements and work on firehouse.

3. Heard H. H. Smith Jr., who asked the council if property owners adjacent to the Brunswick project could have rocky formation removed from their property at the time the city is finishing the project.

4. Held over action on the new Westlake firehouse pending approval by San Francisco on Lake Merced boulevard right of way, owned by that city. Contract for work on the station will be awarded before November 13.

5. Held up action on Westlake Reservoir No. 1 pending further study of ground conditions on the site. City Engineer Smith said the present proposed location may contain shifting soil. At present Smith is meeting with low bidders on the project in an attempt to arrive at a lower price. The low bid was $20,000 above Smith's estimate. If no compromise is made, the city may re-advertise for bids, according to Andersen.

CITIZENS CLUB OFFERS DANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

Another gala function by the Italian-American Citizens club of Daly City and Colma is in store for local residents tomorrow (Saturday) night when a dance will be held in the community center.

Steve Salvi and his nine-piece orchestra will perform. According to Citizens club president Dan Casentini the Salvi combo was a "tremendous success" at a recent dance held at the center.

Benefits from this dance will contribute much to the fund for the Children's Christmas party, which the club gives annually to hundreds of small fry of this community.

It is hoped by Casentini that many local people will attend this dance, especially those who have recently made this area their new residence.

Daly City will have big name bands in the beautiful Community Center, if the residents of this area desire, Casentini stated, but added

Council Candidate Works To Extend Buses To Market

Del C. Wilson, local realtor and announced candidate for council in the coming election, said yesterday that he intends to meet with San Francisco Supervisor Edward Mancuso in an attempt to extend the muni bus line to Market street in Colma.

Wilson, who led effort to bring jitney service through Daly City into Colma, said there would be enough passenger-traffic in the Colma area to warrant extension of the service.

He explained that the Lagomarsino homes and the Callan tract, not yet completed, would provide the line with enough business to show a profit.

"Much of the turmoil at the present Top of the Hill terminal could be eliminated and adequate transportation could be offered Daly City and Colma if such a move were made," Wilson pointed out.

Wilson said the muni buses would profit by extending service to Colma and at the same time Colma residents would be able to travel to downtown San Francisco for only 15 cents.

At present, riders coming from Broadmoor and Westlake must pay 15 cents to reach the Top of the Hill and receive no transfer for the remainder of their trip.

Threatens Lives Of Two Victims

A gun-toting burglar who threatened the lives of two Broadmoor men if they tried to "act like heroes," was frightened off Wednesday night from a home in that area.

The man who was allegedly the armed gunman was picked up in a San Francisco apartment after the getaway car was traced to his address. Appearing for questioning yesterday was Bob Miller, 29, an ex-convict.

The attempted burglary of the Ray W. Kolb residence, 823 Ellis, was spotted at 9:30 p.m. by Mrs. Kolb as she and her husband were visiting across the street with Mr. and Mrs. Don Childers, 841 Wildwood.

Mrs. Kolb observed a man standing in her living room.

The women's husbands immediately rushed out of the Childers residence where they confronted one burglar, who was standing on the porch with Mrs. Kolb's purse in his hands. Also on the porch was the Kolb TV set, which the burglars apparently planned to place in the open trunk of the late model Buick parked outside.

The burglar, apparently armed, reached for his side and told Childers and Kolb to "start walking. Don't try to be a hero."

He then fled south on Ellis, street, taking the contents from the purse. The two men started to pursue him, but he turned and again warned, "Don't try to be heroes."

He jumped a fence at Maddux drive and Ellis and escaped.

His accomplice drove off at a high rate of speed south on Ellis, turning east on Maddux.

Broadmoor police Ray Savage and Gale Galusha a half hour later found the car abandoned on 87th street across from White.

They placed a stake-out on the car for four hours, but, on leaving 20 minutes on another call, the burglar, apparently hiding out, made off with the car again.

San Francisco police had been alerted on the license and description of the car and picked up Miller at 3 a.m. yesterday (Thursday) morning. He was scheduled to be questioned by Savage and sheriff's office inspector Del Creek late yesterday afternoon.

During the few hours that these events took place, a car was reported stolen from 935 Foothill drive.

Police believe the other burglar made his getaway in the stolen car.

Description and license of the car, a 1951 Studebaker, have been sent out in an all-points-bulletin.

Police believe the man may be armed and is described as "dangerous."

CITY PLAN FOR TRAFFIC ISLAND IS ADOPTED; SENT TO STATE CAPITOL

A "city plan" for construction of the Mission street traffic island and resurfacing of the highway was adopted by the city council Monday night in protest to the state's plan.

In a resolution calling for "duck-ins," left-turn layovers, at every intersection, the council pointed out that the "city plan will best serve Daly City residents and the travelling public."

The state, which has already opened contracts for the island, which will extend from Alemany boulevard and San Jose avenue on the north, to Market street on Mission on the south, called for 11-foot traffic lanes with no left-turn safety duck-ins.

The highway department also specified that several side streets be closed to left turn traffic.

The city plan asked for 10-foot lanes, explaining that these have proven adequate on all other highways, asked for duck-ins at every intersection, and closure of streets only when necessary to carry out the city plan.

According to the council, "traffic hazards and accidents would be greatly increased if the state plan were used."

It was also pointed out that California highway patrol statistics shows a heavy incidence of accidents where there are no lay-overs for left turn traffic.

The resolution has been forwarded to the department of public works and they have been asked to see that the plan is carried out according to Daly City's desires.

on such gimmicks.

JAMES MASON, rec director, had his shiny new automobile bunged up last week and his car wasn't even moving when it happened.

Out of the clear blue sky some non-observant motorist hit the Mason vehicle while it was parked on Junipero Serra.

Just goes to show in these days of rapid transit, you don't have to be on the highway. All they need is a visible target.

You think getting a traffic citation is bad? Well, giving them isn't all beer and skittles.

The local PD is so busy with citation rigamarole, they've taken on an extra hand part time.

JEAN BALTHAZAR right-hand woman to Jeff Hi Superintendent STANFORD HANNAH these past few years, leaves her post to be with husband, GEORGE, in Texas.

Taking over the secretaryship is DOROTHY O'HARE of Broadmoor.

More Broadmoor: Officer ROBERT WILLIAMS, who was suspended from his part-time police officer duties last month, turned in his resignation last week, adding an air of finality to the relationship.

Complicating things, though, is the fact that his name is still on the police eligibility list. In fact he's third in order for a job.

MRS. KENNETH MACLEOD, 56 Leibig street, would like all concerned to know that the Skyline Dump phone number, as listed in the City Directory, ain't so.

Actually the listing given in our directory as the dump phone number, is Mrs. Macleod's number. An error on our part.

There is no such animal as the Skyline Dump.

Dancing to records will be from 7:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. The community center is located on White street off 87th street in Broadmoor.

THREE HURT LAST WEEKEND IN ACCIDENTS

Three persons suffered minor injuries in auto mishaps here over the weekend.

Two Daly City girls, Beverley Joy Olsen, 20, of 530 Winchester, and Beth Powers, 538 Winchester, were treated for cuts and bruises at Junipero Serra hospital Saturday after a vehicle in which they were riding collided with another on Mission street.

According to police reports, Miss Olsen was going west on Crocker avenue when her car hit an auto driven by Thomas Toohey Jr., 17, of 57 Shakespeare, who was travelling south on Mission. Toohey was cited for running an arterial stop.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Fred James Fleishman, 15 Marietta drive, San Francisco, received minor hurts in a collision at Alemany and Lake Merced boulevard.

Her husband was driving north on Lake Merced, police say, when an auto going west on Alemany, driven by Harry Gustafson, 18, of 287 Westbrook, failed to yield the right of way and struck the Fleishman vehicle.

Gustafson was cited for his action.

Library News

By Lorraine Rollandi
Head Librarian

The first in a new series of regular Tuesday afternoon story hours was off to a good start. Thirty five youngsters listened to ghostly tales and Halloween stories. Though several young boys, when asked about their reaction, claimed that they had been "scared to death," the delighted look on their faces seemed to indicate that Mrs. Plummer's storytelling had more than pleased them. We hope to see more new faces at the library Tuesdays at 3:45.

A special classroom story hour was held at the Daly City Library recently. Mrs. Bostwick, curriculum coordinator for the Jefferson school district, is cooperating with the library staff in planning these extra morning story hours. Mrs. Garthwaite from the San Mateo county library, and author of several children's books, was the guest story teller. After displaying and explaining many Indian implements, she told several Indian stories to third and fourth graders from the Woodrow Wilson school. Since the boys and girls are studying Indians at present in their unit of study, the subject was particularly timely.

Throughout the school year, Mrs. Plummer, children's librarian will visit the schools in an effort to familiarize more children with the storytelling program, as well as the many other facilities which are available at the library.

Librarian's Meeting

At a meeting called by Clara Dills, San Mateo county librarian, assembled librarians were given an opportunity to hear Dr. Edward A. Wight, from the school of librarianship at the University of California in Berkeley. Among other topics, Dr. Wight spoke on the subject of public library standards for California, a subject which will be discussed and voted upon at the California Library association reading conference and annual meeting being held in Stockton November 12-14. After Dr. Wight's informal address, the audience was divided into small groups to discuss specific phases of library standards. Each group then reported to Dr. Wight any conclusions at which they had arrived. The purpose for the meeting and discussion was to study the possibility and feasability of cooperation among the many libraries in the peninsula area, with the goal being greater service to the public and less duplication of effort and expense in the handling and processing of library materials. All of these matters will be discussed further at another meeting which is scheduled for early January.

Book Week

Children's Book Week will be observed throughout the nation November 15-22. Special Book Week displays at the Daly City library will be of interest to adults as well as boys and girls. Books suitable for Christmas presents will be highlighted, in an effort to assist those adults who are contemplating giving books for gifts. "Reading Is Fun," as the book slogan states, so why not give that boy or girl on your Christmas shopping list a book, and help him to discover just how much fun the right book for him can be.

IT'S REPORT CARD TIME AGAIN

Along about this time of the year, Jefferson grammar school students fret and fidget and parents remonstrate that "They'd better be good this time."

Cause of all the fuss is that perennial heartache—the report card.

Because of the understandable human need for recognition of attainment, report cards continue, like death and taxes, down through the ages.

This periodic reporting of children's progress frequently sets as hard with the teacher as it does with the parents.

Regardless of the report system used, and believe us, there's been a-many, there is bound to be some unhappiness.

Pappa and mama in Daly City suffer, naturally, from the universal belief that their offspring are blessed with the wisdom of Socrates and that they should bring home report cards indicating the same.

As H. Z. Weibel, district superintendent, points out, some children "seem to naturally take to the program of studies that is outlined for them while others have more over-powering interests such as television, sports, machinery, or white rats."

Other young fry find themselves in the spot of being expected to perform as admirably as more highly endowed fellow students and simply give up the whole ghost under mis-guided adult pressure. Some, of course, go further than mere apathy, and turn to outright rebellion.

Teachers are faced with the dilemma of whether to grade a child to some pre-ordained set standard or according to his ability.

Using the standard, at least half the students will come out on the short end because that's the way heredity and genetics works. Some have it, some don't.

To avoid this turn of events, the teachers must depart from this standard, sometimes giving a preponderance of high marks which are about as significant as last year's funny papers.

Therefore, the modern teacher has developed a motto, "Take him where you find him and bring him along as fast and as far as his ability permits."

This, we believe, gets at the heart of the matter.

Because of the application of this motto in "report" cards, an intellect who lags may show poor marks, while the less highly endowed youth, who is industrious, might come up with a real parent-pleaser of a card.

This is as it should be but, obviously, try to tell it to Papa and Mama when their bright sprout comes home with a couple of "unsatisfactories" clutched tightly in his little hand.

Teachers, despite belief to the contrary by many parents, suffer just as much in attempting to make out the cards as the kids and parents do on receipt of them.

But parents can be a help in working out some adjustment of the report card quandry.

First, as Weibel points out, "Don't take the card too seriously."

Secondly, parents should seek to establish a wholesome relationship with their child's teacher and confer with her occasionally about their child's progress at school.

Experience shows that when such a course is taken, the children find adjustment to school work easier.

The elementary district has established each Tuesday, following dismissal of classes, as a parent-teacher conference period.

We would like to applaud the school district for taking such a wise course and hope Daly City parents see fit to take advantage of it.

There'll be less cussing at teachers, happier and more successful kids and, who knows, maybe less forgery on report cards.

SOMETHING TO GRIPE ABOUT

Everybody's got something to complain about.

As a rule the problem is getting someone to listen.

Therefore, THE REORD, anxious to hear legitimate gripes, will begin a "City Fix-Up" section, to be run as often as interest warrants.

Gist of the new feature will be complaints from Daly City citizens about "poor streets, dark alleys, poor drainage, lack of signals, unhealthy conditions, ad infinitum."

Your participation in this column might bring about improvements that otherwise would never be realized.

Griping to yourself about civic conditions is like swearing when you hit your thumb with a hammer. It doesn't do much good and your thumb still turns blue.

The way to get things accomplished is to bring the facts to light.

If you know about an undesirable condition and it's been weighing heavily on your chest, drop us a line and let us know what it's all about.

We can't rectify it, but you can be darned sure the people who can will take some notice.

Get out those typewriters and pens and let fly.

We'll be here waiting.

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

Judging by the frequency of its appearance on earth, war has a peculiar fascination for mankind. When not actively engaged in one, we are writing about it, either reminiscences of what we should have done or dreams of how we think we are going to handle the next one. You might say that it has always exercised a fascination that is about to become fatal.

For a brief interlude after the last big fracas we were in full flight from the reality of what had so recently engulfed us. Hollywood, ever the mirror of the American soul, reflected us accordingly. We must have quickly tired of forgetting because it wasn't long before a steadily increasing torrent of fiction dramatized the greatest single experience to happen to any generation. Competition for the ever dwindling number of readers is something fierce, as you can well imagine, and as book followed book it came to the point where only the author lucky enough to be condemned by at least three-quarters of the critics and all the churches caught the public interest. The rest were the sole attendants at the funerals of their books, as they were sold for 59c six months after publication.

Quite understandably the film industry was eager to cash in on a good thing, and has flooded the screens with various interpretations of what war is all about. There have been such errors in timing as "What Price Glory," a retread which reflected an attitude toward war as dead as "Tipperary." And we mustn't forget "From Here to Eternity." The latter as a book left a new high watermark for the type of writing which attains popularity by the brevity of its words. This alone should promise the film a wide audience; the Navy's recent ban on the picture guarantees it.

Occasionally there is an exception to this rather depressing estimate of popular taste. One of these is "The Cruel Sea" which attained the best-seller lists without the aid of the scenes so prevalent in other war stories. The same tone and a considerable amount of strength of the book has been translated into the film currently playing at the Bridge. It also contains one of the finest performances of the year in Jack Hawkins as Commander Ericson. His will be almost the only face familiar to you, and perhaps that is what helps it make the impression that it does. You can have no preconceived notions as to how anyone is going to act.

It is a harsh, often bitter film which tells without any heroics of the endless destruction of a phase of war in which the enemy is seldom seen. When he is seen and is hauled aboard, shivering and dripping from the sea, you are surprised "that he doesn't look much different from us." It is a pity that the temptation to tamper with the ending was not more strongly resisted, but unless you have read the book you will hardly notice it.

Neighbor Policy Is Key To Leadership DA Candidate Says

A new and worldwide version of the Good Neighbor Policy, with world unity and peace measured in terms of advantage for the human community and not in terms of military advantage, was outlined today as the key to world leadership when Roy W. Seagraves, Peninsula attorney and candidate for San Mateo county's district attorney office in the 1954 election, defended the future of the United Nations in an address to members of the South San Francisco Lions Club.

Seagraves emphasized that the answer to world war is to be found in world law, backed by justice and popular consent, the end result of success for the United Nations.

Warning against the growing menace of a return to isolationist thinking, Seagraves pointed out that indication of a United States "go it alone" policy is making the Russians laugh, and when the Russians laugh it is time for Americans to think fast.

"We should not demand; we must never appease, but we must remain willing to compromise," he stated.

"Understanding between all nations and people can mean the triumph of the heartbeat over the drumbeat," Seagraves continued. "It is not too much to hope that people will come to see themselves in each other; that they will make themselves known to one another by similarities rather than differences."

Citing proof of the strength of the United Nations, Seagraves pointed out that despite the assaults on the peace since the United Nations was founded, the idea behind it is easily demonstrated by the fact that no nation in the world today would dare remove itself from membership and separate its country from the human hope that is woven into the very texture of the organization.

Seagraves, accusing the American people of impatience in their quest for an easy road to security and peace, iterated that to let anxiety to obtain a result obscure reason would lose more in attainment than a result could ever justify.

Summarizing his case for continued faith in the United Nations, Seagraves expressed the firm belief that the United Nations can and will succeed in becoming the world society of nations under law that it is intended to be.

EXIT EARL CARROLL'S

Earl Carroll was killed in a plane crash nearly a decade ago but his name lives on as a synonym for Hollywood showmanship.

One of the things that keeps his memory green is the Earl Carroll Theatre, a huge white concrete building on Sunset Boulevard half a block from Vine.

The edifice built to showcase the charms of the feminine sex still remains. But last week they took down Earl Carroll's name from the towering walls.

A new outfit headed by Frank Sennes of Beverly Hills has taken over the place and will open it around Christmas-time under the name of "Moulin Rouge."

This is exclusive information and hasn't hit the papers yet, though it may no longer be a scoop by the time this sees print. The reason I know about it is that I've been working as a stagehand and general factotum in the old Earl Carroll place, helping to transform it to a Parisian-style nightclub.

Before any readers rise in dismay to ask what a writer is doing working as a stagehand, let me interpolate here that many a writer finds it necessary to supplement his literary income by manual or other labor.

Years ago in New York City when I was a young agoloochy, John Steinbeck beat me out for a wheelbarrow job on a new building going up near Madison Square. He's been ahead of me ever since and sometimes I wonder what would have happened if the construction foreman had selected the dewey-faced stripling instead of the rugged Steinbeck to push that wheelbarrow.

And Tennessee Williams washed dishes in the Automat. Not so many years ago either. So I didn't feel bad about muling and hauling in Earl Carroll's.

In fact, I was glad to get the job. Way it came about, the place was crawling with starving actors, artists and writers of one variety or another.

Two friends of mine, Jack Eringer, a cameraman, and Joe Van Winkle, a multiple-threat character who sings, acts, writes, directs and produces, got on the payroll first.

Jack is a beast who can walk away with a 200-pound load and think nothing of it. But Joe is the slim, willowy type, weighing 138-pounds soaking wet.

Joe worked two days and came up with a backache. He reported to me that he was about to quit so I went in and talked to Harry Shebashian, the maintenance engineer, and replaced him. I'm nearly twice as big as Joe and am mostly muscles from the ears down. But even I found the going rugged.

We hauled lumber, pulled down drapes, knocked holes in plaster walls, climbed swaying ladders to remove lighting fixtures and, when we were resting, pushed brooms.

To top it off, Harry Shebashian, our boss or one of our bosses, turned out to be an Armenian and a member of the entertainment committee of the St. James Armenian church. He roped Jack and me into spending a weekend working at a church benefit.

I never realized there were so many Armenians in Los Angeles. Everybody within 200 miles whose name ended in "ian" was there.

As compensation we ate shish-kabob, rice and noodles and other exotic dishes and just missed meeting Bill Saroyan, who put in an appearance while we were busy in the kitchen.

But to get back to Earl Carroll's. It is rumored that some important Las Vegas money is behind the new enterprise and that the gamblers are prepared to take a big loss for tax purposes. That's supposed to be a dark secret however and Louella Parsons will probably have it in her column day after tomorrow.

Designer of the new "Moulin Rouge" decor is named Harvey Warren. Harvey affects black shirts and scarfs and has painted some striking sketches of how the place will look when it's finished.

Our other bosses included Lou Clarke, the manager; a strawboss decorator named Brown, first name unknown to me, who ran us ragged, and Frank Sennes himself, an affable gentleman who walked walked around in bright sport clothes, murmuring under his breath about how lucrative things will be when he has a thousand patrons a night watching his spectacles.

Most interesting character on the payroll was a little man named Bert. Bert had been with the building since it was erected in 1939 and reputedly has a lifetime job there.

He didn't say so himself but others told me Carroll provided for him in his will, since for years he was chauffeur and companion to the showman.

It was Bert who told me all about the fatal plane crash, which also snuffed out the life of Carroll's leading lady, Beryl Wallace.

Miss Wallace is immortalized in a bronze statue at the doorway, a nude in winged victory pose. I didn't learn the name of the sculptor but two other nudes on the staircase were the work of Willy Pogony, one of Hollywood's top artists who now, I understand, has gravitated to Sunday supplement work.

It will be quite a big thing for Hollywood, this new Moulin Rouge. The town needs another gawking attraction for tourists.

But a lot of the oldtimers here, and even some of the newcomers like myself, will continue to think of the place under its original name—Earl Carroll's.

Safety News From Your Local Police

Sightseeing, or rubbernecking, as some call it, can be a disastrous habit when practiced by motorists when driving along our rural highways.

There are two dangers connected with such a practice. First, it takes your mind off the driving job on hand. And, secondly, such drivers usually slow down to a snail's pace in order to see more.

This interferes with the normal flow of traffic and creates a hazardous situation for both the driver who is sightseeing and the drivers who are trying to avoid the slower moving vehicle.

The better way is to pull off the highway and stop. Then you can look as long as you wish without upsetting the traffic pattern of other drivers.

Whether you are driving for the first time on California's highways or a driver with years of experience on our streets and highways, driving at a speed so slow as to impede or block the normal and reasonable movement of traffic is an unsafe as well as an illegal act.

Total: Nine accidents.

One firm had thirty-five hundred wagons, forty-five hundred men, forty thousand oxen, and one thousand mules on the trail over which they hauled sixteen million pounds of goods annually in the early 1850's.

How Can I?

Q. How can I clean piano keys?

A. These are best cleaned with wood alcohol. Never use soap.

Q. How can I obliterate scratches on my mahogany furniture?

A. Paint the scratches with iodine until the proper shade is reached, let dry, then polish until glossy.

Q. How can I clean yellowed enamel bathtubs and washbowls?

A. To restore these to their former brightness, wash them with salt and turpentine.

Q. How can I remove some candle grease from my black suede shoes?

A. Take a piece of brown wrapping paper, cover the candle grease with it, then hold a warm iron over it. The spot will soon be absorbed.

Q. How can I clean out a cloudy looking vinegar cruet that has a mineral deposit accumulated in its bottom?

A. Fill it with water, add a little ammonia, and let it stand for several hours, or overnight. Rinse with clear hot water.

Q. How can I most successfully cut marshmallows?

A. Cut them with scissors, and keep dipping the scissors into hot water frequently while cutting. This prevents the marshmallow from sticking.

Q. How can I clean discolored aluminumware?

A. Rub it with a cloth dipped in lemon juice, then rise in warm water and dry thoroughly.

Q. How can I remove white marks from furniture, caused by hot dishes?

A. One method is to rub with finely powdered rottenstone or pumice, mixed to a light paste with lemon oil or linseed oil. If you do not have rottenstone or pumice on hand, try cigar ash. Rub lightly in one direction of the grain, wipe with a cloth dipped in plain linseed oil, then polish.

Construction of the new key civic building was made possible by a succesful bond election last year and an allocation from the federal government. Work is to be done under PWA supervision.

The Daly City Chamber of Commerce has planned an appropriate program for the Saturday ceremony. Congressman John McGrath is to be the principal speaker of the afternoon.

Speakers other than Congressman McGrath will be Mayor Paul G. Selmi, A. J. Gaggero, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Frank Atkinson, superintendent on the job.

Jefferson's Indians traveled to Redwood City last Friday to play the Sequoia Cherokees.

The game went through the first quarter with no gain. Toward the end of the first half a pass to Jack Parker gave Jefferson its scoring chance. They took this chance and Tony Compagno went around right end for the score. The Indians held the six point lead throughout the game.

Indians who were responsible for the victory were: Tony Campagno, Buzzy Wright, Bob Christen, Jack Parker, Kevin Epidendio, Buster Eldrup, Harry Ayres, Herb Poddig, Paul Tolovi, Harvey Smith and others.

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:

October ended with Halloween and such an assortment of ghost, goblins, tramps, gypsies, and princesses never were seen before. Just to be sure that they would be in time for the treats, the children started their rounds very early. They then adjourned, one and all, to the various schools for the parades and free ice cream. Just for the fun of it I went up to OLPH school to see what was happening. PLENTY! I didn't know there were so many children having so much fun.

In the 8-years-old and under group there were some very cute and original costumes. They also had an amateur show which was won by RONNIE DI MAGGIO, aged 5, who sang, "I Saw Mommie Kissing Santa Claus." The prettiest costume was worn by DONNA MARIE DAY, aged 7, the most original by NANCY MOSMANN, 5 years old, and the funniest was a little lady of eighteen months who was the cutest tramp and stole the show, NANCY ELIZABETH POWERS.

In the other group of older children the prettiest costume was worn by MAUREEN MILROY, the funniest by CARMEN ERIA, and the most original by DONNA ALAMADA. All in all they had a good time, and, Thanks — to all those who made it a safe and sane evening of fun for the kids.

Items of Interest

November 7-15 is JACKIE WEEK. Jackie is actually a joint committee formed by all the child placing agencies who are faced with the desperate need of finding foster homes for San Francisco children. WHO IS JACKIE? Jackie represents each unfortunate boy and girl who through circumstances beyond his control is deprived of the security of his own home. These children must depend upon the understanding and warmhearted generosity of others to give them the priceless gift of home life. There is much to be said for being a foster parent. Contrary to all opinions, the foster parent really gains more than the child. Who can buy the priceless gift of the love of a child? They give to us greatly, neighbors, so how about thinking it over. If interested phone WA. 1-0665 and you will be given the number of the agency which would be best suited to your needs.

MRS. MAY BAKER of Vista Grande avenue has not been her usual peppy self lately. Believe it or not she has had to take time out to be sick. Those of us who know May are sure that this illness is not going to slow her down for too long. May is another of the neighbors who is always ready whenever she is needed to lend a helping hand and whom it is a pleasure to know.

MISS HELEN POWERS of Peoria street has been ill in Mills Memorial hospital for some time and would really appreciate hearing from her friends. Cards really do cheer one up and it is such a good feeling to know that one is not forgotten even though not able to be around.

MRS. MARY HENSLEY was the surprised recipient of a baby shower Wednesday of this week. At the shower given by MISS HEATHER BRIDGES of Peter street, Mary was met by a host of her friends who enjoyed watching her open many beautiful gifts for the future heir of the Hensley family. After all the gifts were opened and duly admired the ladies adjourned to the dining room, which was decorated most beautifully in the appropriate motif, for delicious refreshments.

Among those who attended a birthday party for MISS FLORENCE WALLIS, has now reached the ripe old age of thirteen, was MISS LILLIAN (GINGER) WALTON. The young ladies had a grand time and a happy birthday is wished Florence from all the neighbors.

Daly City is still growing in population. The latest addition being a 7 lb., 10 oz. son who has come to join the family of MR. and MRS. FRANK MORENO. He made a most welcome addition as the Morenos have a daughter and naturally the little girl had ordered a brother.

This is an early reminder to set a date for a dance. Our Lady of Perpetual Help Men's Club Inc. will hold a Thanksgiving dance in the school hall Saturday, November 14, at 8 p.m. There will be music by ANGELO FERRIGNO'S orchestra and it should be good. In addition there will be turkeys given as door prizes, baby sitters will be furnished for the children, and, of course, refreshments. It is advisable to get your tickets early. Why not contact MR. L. THIEBAUT at 1054 Hanover street for all information. Plan on coming and bring your friends for a good time. You may also call JU. 5-4008 or JU. 7-4024 for any information on this event. See you at the dance.

Servicemen

PFC. TED FREELAND of the U. S. Marines paid his family a surprise visit last weekend. He has been in the Marine Corps a long time, having arrived home from Korea August 23. On September 23rd he was stationed at Hawthorne, Nevada, at an ammo dump. His present duties consist of guarding the ammo dump and seeing that only the right people are allowed to enter. He has had some interesting experiences while in the Marines and while in Korea he was wounded twice. He is now back at his station.

A/2c SYL CRUZ JR., son of Mr. and Mrs. Syl Cruz of Mission street, has just about finished his vacation and will soon be on his way to his new station. At the present all he knows is that it will be an air base in Texas. Syl has had his turn at overseas duty and from now on should have his duty closer to home.

SGT. JOSEPH MONTGOMERY and his wife, the former NANCY BANFIELD, were heard from last week. Sgt. Joe of the U. S. Marines is now in his second hitch and is at present at Camp Pendleton, training all the new recruits in the well known facts of being a marine. Joe and Nancy live in San Diego and are fine. Their family hopes to see them for Christmas, but will have to wait and see.

The overseas mailing date is November 15. This year, as before, many of your sons and mine will be away from home at Christmas time. While there seems to be no active war at this time, nevertheless the boys can't quite make it home in time for Christmas. There are so many and they should have their packages on time. Remember also, neighbors, there are fellows in your boy's outfit who may not receive a gift—so why not include an extra little package to be given to someone else's boy. Let's get started, folks, we have less than ten days as November 15 is on a Sunday. Just to be sure it gets there on time—don't wait until the last minute.

More youngsters are leaving each day for the service. The latest is ROBERT (Red to his friends) DOWDLE of Hillside boulevard. Bob graduated from Jeff this last June and has left for Camp Pendleton for duty with the U. S. Marines.

Another of the June class of graduates from Jeff who has left for duty with the Marines is FRED CRIER. As each class graduates the services add their names to their rosters. It won't be long until it will be a rare sight to see any boy over eighteen at home at all.

The HILLCREST CIRCLE No. 143, U.A.O.D., are another organization who are most busy at the moment getting ready for their Christmas party for the Veterans at Letterman hospital. All members active and inactive are being contacted to get in on this project. They will have presents such as all the fellows and gals can use and enjoy. They make their usual monthly trip to the hospital but this will be the big event of the year which the boys look forward to. Any Druid who would like to participate in this may get all information needed by calling JU. 7-9792.

News and Views

Arriving home Saturday of last week from a vacation in the Hawaiian Islands were MR. and MRS. LYAL INGERSOLL. They left on the S. S. Lurline and spent the first week of their vacation staying at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and touring all the main places of interest. They flew between the three main islands and went to see the volcano Muana Loa. They flew to the Island of Kona and visited the coffee plantations and while there stayed at the Kona House which Ann says is most quaint and picturesque. Their tours included trips to orchid and guava plantations and the churches which are very beautiful, especially one whose priest painted all the murals himself. One of the most unusual things seen were the children picking up papers on the streets in their spare time. They are taught to do this by their teachers. They spent nine days aboard ship and there was something doing all the time. It was a wonderful trip, "just like a dream," which everyone should take sometime. While there they were lavishly entertained by the Aloha Shriners who went out of their way to see that all had a good time.

Among those who traveled some distance to attend the livestock show currently being held at the Cow Palace were MR. and MRS. FRANK VENTURI. These two used to reside in our town on Vista Grande avenue for many years but now they call Sebastapol their home. While here they dropped by for a surprise visit to Frank's mother, MRS. MAY BAKER, who was most happy to see them.

An orchid to another bunch of grand ladies. MESDAMES MARY CRANE, BERNICE HANNAH, EVE HOBBS, ELLEN WALLACE, EMMA D'ISEP, and MRS. WINDHURST go every Monday from 9-12 to San Mateo where they put the T-B seals into envelopes to be mailed to all of us. They also count all the money which is received in return for the seals. These women have been doing this for the last four years and of course their services are donated.

THE BIG BAD WOLF and Little Red Riding Hood walked off with first prize in the Westlake Subdivision Association annual Halloween Costume contest. President of the association Joseph Toboni and Mrs. Van Devort, 210 Wilshire drive, mother of the winners, hold the brother team of Edward, left, and Ronnie. The winners received a tricycle.

COUNTY BOARD ENDORSES RESEARCH PROGRAM ON WELFARE APPROACH

The San Mateo county board of Supervisors at its regular meeting yesterday, passed a resolution presented by Supervisor Martin A. Poss endorsing a research and pilot program to test the efficacy of a new approach to social welfare problems.

"After a comprehensive analysis of local health and welfare conditions as they show up through our courts and institutions and on our agency and relief rolls has been made," Poss stated, "I recommend this proposed program be put into operation to determine the effectiveness of approaching all behavior problems on a 'family unit' basis rather than an 'individual' basis, as is the present practice. I understand the entire program will extend over a period of approximately four years and will be financed by the Grant Foundation of New York and the Rosenberg Foundation of San Francisco," he said.

Bradley Buell, executive director, and Paul Beisser, associate director, of Community Research Associates, Inc., of New York City the organization which has been selected by the two Foundations to carry out the proposed program, said the cost will be $400,000. They have already spent some time in the county meeting with the Board of Supervisors, heads of various public and private agencies, and community leaders.

BAYSHORE P. T. A. REPORTS SUCCESS OF OCTOBER 30 CARNIVAL

Bayshore PTA annual Halloween carnival brought out ghosts, goblins and witches by the dozen October 30 at the Bayshore school auditorium.

Prizes were awarded to the following students for the Halloween posters which were displayed in the stores in Bayshore: Edda Conte, 8th grade, Jeannie Datzman, 7th grade, Gay Mourning, 6th grade, Lee Smith, 6th grade, and James Langer, 5th grade.

Costumes were judged by a committee of five PTA members.

The Bayshore PTA wish to extend thanks to all the merchants and parents who so wholeheartedly supported this affair by giving donations and attending the Halloween carnival.

LAKE MERCED SITE FOR DISCUSSION OF CREDIT POLICIES

Credit policies will be discussed at a November 19 meeting of the San Mateo County Signing Officers association of Bank of America, to be held at Lake Merced Country club.

Speaker of the evening will be Lloyd Mazzera, vice president in charge of installment credit loans for the statewide bank. Attending the gathering, which starts at 7 p.m., will be officers from Bank of America branches throughout San Mateo county. This group assembles several times yearly to exchange information on banking topics and to discuss means of improving banking services in the various communities and cities.

MR. and MRS. FRANK BLACKSTONE of Mission street are the proud and happiest of people this week. The reason? A new baby girl has come to join them. She is their first child and all the best wishes of the neighbors are extended to them at this time.

Well, neighbors, another week's news has ended and so has the month of October. November and it's holidays is now with us and Christmas is just around the corner. November will also bring lots of events of interest to all the folks so let's have it. Remember the phone is PL. 5-6482, and I'll be waiting to hear from all of you. If you can't get me the first time just call back as eventually the line will be free. 'Bye now.

Women of Moose Are Hosts To The State Convocation

San Francisco chapter 739, Women of the Moose, was honored this year by playing hostess to the state-wide Convocation of the College of Regents. Approximately 200 women representing cities and towns throughout California assembled at the California Hall Sunday, October 25.

The session was opened at 10 a.m. by General Chairman Vivian Lasko, introducing Deputy Grand Regent Redella Lessley of Richmond chapter. Following the introduction and address of welcome, general instructions were given by group meetings of chapter development committees. At 12 noon, luncheon was held at the Ratakeller located in the California Hall.

The afternoon session was reopened at 1:15 p.m. by a ritualistic ceremony. One of the highlights of the afternoon was the "Capping Ceremony" at which one of the women to receive her "Cap" was Irma Heyberger of San Francisco chapter.

The College of Regents consists of Senior Regents of the Women of the Moose chapters who have successfully completed their terms in office.

WOODROW WILSON PTA BOARD LAYS PLANS FOR COMING BAZAAR EVENT

Plans for the coming bazaar were discussed by the Woodrow Wilson PTA at their regular board meeting held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. R. Lobel.

Many hand-made articles will be on hand at the bazaar, along with cakes and a white elephant table. A fun room, in which games will be set up for the children, will also be provided. The annual fathers' night will be held on November 17.

Mrs. Otis Simonsen, president of the PTA, attended a meeting of the 17th district on Monday at Burlingame.

A report on the Halloween party sponsored by the PTA indicated the event was a success.

About 300 children turned out and enjoyed the events of the evening.

Performances were given by several of the children, after which four cartoons were shown.

High spot of the evening was the parade in which the youngsters displayed their costumes and were judged for prizes.

The winners, from kindergarten through the first grade, were:

Most original—Chuckie Hassett, Little Black Sambo.

Prettiest—Joan Jensen, Dutch girl.

Funniest—Bobby De Villa, pirate.

Winners from the second grade and up were:

Most original—David Owen, mechanical man.

Prettiest—Linda Jensen, senorita.

Funniest—Jimmy Orlich, tramp.

PERSHING PTA HEARS TALK ON JUVENILE HOME

At the Tuesday General Pershing PTA meeting Anthony Lovoi, assistant county probation officer, gave an enlightening talk on juvenile delinquency and the work of the Hillcrest Juvenile Home.

Lovoi stressed the good accomplished in the greater number of cases handled. He said that actually only a small percentage of the children who go through Hillcrest run away from the home. "These facts," he said, "are often lost sight of because of the extensive publicity given the few youngsters who do run away from Hillcrest or who get into further trouble after they leave the home."

Then Lovoi described some of the present hampering inadequacies at Hillcrest. These include the lack of a proper dinning room and insufficient classroom space.

Preceding the talk, Mrs. Kenneth Ryan, chairman of the exceptional child committee, presented a paper on the local resources available to help the emotionally disturbed child.

During the business meeting it was decided that the PTA give a festival and hot dog sale February 19. This bazaar is to take the place of the biweekly hot dog sale which had to be abandoned because the kitchen adjoins the kindergarten room.

The members present also approved the Mothers' March in the January March of Dimes. Volunteers for the March will be sought at a forthcoming PTA Meeting.

SF GATORS RENO-BOUND IN SEARCH OF FOURTH WIN AGAINST NEVADANS

Seeking their fourth win of the season San Francisco State's footballers embarked for Reno and the University of Nevada this morning.

The Gators took an early bus to enable them to get a one day workout before they meet the Wolfpack tomorrow afternoon at Reno's McKay Stadium.

Last week State edged George Pepperdine university 13-6, while the Nevadans remained inactive.

Nevada, headed by Coach Jake Lawlor, boasts a host of returning servicemen who played college ball before entering the service.

San Francisco State will depend largely on the services of Little All American candidate Maury Duncan tomorrow. Duncan, who has passed to 852 yards this season, has a completion average of 48.5 per cent. In the Pepperdine contest last week he threw 18 aerials completing ten for a net gain of 164 yards.

State's top ground gainers include Harry Bremond, a 155 pound speedster; Rudy Smith, team's top scorer in 1950; Walt Gomez, hard plunging, 185 pound fullback; and Dick Nave, the halfback who led the Gator attack last week against Pepperdine with a 4.00 average per carry.

Tentative starting lineup for SF State:

LE—Tony Fardella
LT—Roy Nonella
LG—Jess Jones
C—Larry Conover
RG—Don Slates
RT—Bob Foote
RE—George Wehner
FB—Dick Storm
QB—Maury Duncan
RH—Harry Bremond
LH—Dick Nave

REC GRID LEADERS PAIR OFF TOMORROW

Two undefeated giants of the Recreation department football league meet this Saturday at Marchbanks park in a grid battle which will decide the leadership in league play. The Colma Eagles and the Colma Steelers, each with a 3-0 record, will fight for the league leadership.

The Eagles, led by Paul Tapia and Ino Patron, are favored by six points on the passing of Bill Brown and the sensational receiving of Tapia and Patron. The Steelers, on the other hand, will shoot the works on the long-passing arm of Charles Bridges and the receiving of Jack Lewkowitz and Dick Joy. The heavy line of the Steelers made up of Gene Premice, John Rossvich and Don Taylor might upset the Eagles if they are able to rush passer Brown and force him to throw hurriedly.

Last Saturday the Eagles unmercifully defeated the OLPH team 60-8 while the Steelers won a 1-0 forfeit from the Colma Rams. The Colma Jugs won their first game of the season edging out the Colma Redskins 8-6.

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL IN COUNTY?

Stadium Committee Asks SF Aid In Undertaking

Co-operation with San Francisco in the attempt to bring Major League baseball to San Mateo county was pledged by the county multi-purpose stadium committee Friday at a meeting held in San Mateo's Villa Chartier.

Northern county representative on the committee was Joseph Sarto, who, because of his long-time interest in sports, was asked by the county board of supervisors to serve with the group.

Chances for construction of the multi-purpose stadium and the resultant attraction of Major League ball here were discussed, with the prospects appearing bright.

The committee drafted a letter to Mayor Elmer Robinson of San Francisco asking for the meeting to discuss the possibility of such action.

William Werder, county supervisor and Redwood City businessman, was elected chairman of the committee, and Don Vowel, San Mateo Chamber of Commerce, was named vice-chairman.

As many as three eastern and two western combines are interested in building a stadium either in San Francisco or San Mateo county and bidding for a Major League franchise when one is available, it was revealed at the meeting.

Members of the committee decided that the site of the multi-purpose stadium should be on land adjacent to the county's fiesta grounds and Bay Meadows race track. William P. Kyne, Bay Meadows general manager and California racing mogul, has pledged his cooperation in the venture.

Parking space for from 12,000 to 14,000 vehicles would be available at the proposed site, according to the committee.

EAGLES TIE LIONS IN KEG LEAGUE

First-Place "Dispute" To Be Settled Tuesday

Daly City Eagles moved into a tie for first place in the Daly City-Colma Bowling league this week by taking a pair from Homes by Sterling, while the front-running DC-Colma Lions were being embarassed by the Brisbane Lions.

The Brisbane gang, perennial hard-luck rollers, were spotted 83 points by the leaders, and that's all they needed to snatch a couple of wins from their brethren Daly City Lions.

The Eagles-Lions win-loss trick placed the pair in a tie for first with records of 15-9.

Interest is centered on next Tuesday night's competition at Brentwood when these two teams will square off to seek who takes over undisputed first.

Three teams, Homes by Sterling, Thur Meat Company and Paul's Flower's, occupied the runner-up spot. The flower vendors were tough Tuesday in licking Vince and Fred for a couple and sweeping away all honors in sight.

Paul's Babe De Luca tied Paul Bruch of Lombardi's Auto Service for high individual game with 212.

De Luca rounded out his evening by capturing high team series, with a respectable 609.

It was Paul's argain for high team series and high team game, as they tossed off scores of 2553 and 901, respectively.

Lincoln Today, Galileo Wednesday For Jefferson

Win Over Lions Is Needed To Maintain Second Place Spot

Jefferson high's second-place Indians will meet a big, speedy Lincoln eleven at 2:45 p.m. today in San Jose in one of the more important Peninsula Athletic league contests.

While the Jeffs sport a 3-1 win-loss record in league competition, the Lions are only one point away with a 2-1-1 mark.

In recent games the Links' power has begun to show, with their latest effort a 33-7 trouncing of Palo Alto.

Coach Joe McGrath thinks if his grid pupils get over this one today, they can probably coast through the remainder of the season, with only San Jose and South San Francisco left on the agenda.

Chance At First

The Indians stand an outside chance of picking up first place if Burlingame and Capuchino, now tied for top spot, meet their masters.

Last Friday's outing found the Indians coming out on the top of a 25-20 score, but at times during the contest the outcome was doubtful.

Don Delbon, who was a standout all afternoon at the end spot, raised the crowd to its feet in the first quarter when he snitched a Matean pass and ran 45-yards for the game's first score. John Geertsen's kick was good.

The Bearcats got back at the Jeffs in the same period, driving over for six points, leaving the local laddies only a one-point breadth in front.

After a sustained drive in the second quarter, Jeff Quarterback Ray Rosa went across the San Mateo goal on a sneak play, giving the locals a 13-6 edge.

All Even-up

But the Mateans, playing hard in the clutch, evened up the score by making good in the final play of the first half.

Jim Honeywell, a steady ground-gainer all afternoon, gave the lead back to the Indians in the third period with a five-yard smash off the inside of the line.

The Indians dominated the play during the third quarter, with the Mateans pulling only four plays during that time.

J. Honeywell was the prize package again for the Jeffs as he returned a Mateo punt 50 yards in the fourth quarter. The Indians captalized on the advantage, and Ed Gallagher got another big six for his team, hitting paydirt on a three-yard buck.

In The Bag?

With 35 seconds remaining in the game the Indians had what seemed a healthy margin of 25-13 over the Bearcats.

But the Cats scored again, narrowing the margin, and in desperation, they tried an on-side kick.

Their strategy paid off, as the Jeffs fumbled and lost the ball to the Mateans.

But with the clock eating up the seconds, San Mateo was left taking the hindmost as three passes and a ground play went for nothing.

Yardage Department

Jim Honeywell led in the yardage gained department, amassing 103 yards in 15 carries, for a 6.8 yard average per try.

His brother, Wally, went for 46 yards in nine plays, good for a 5.1 average, while Bill Butler had a 3.1 average in seven tries.

Fullback Gallagher, on four plays, gained 14 yards, for a 3.5 figure, and Del Hamann, in two attempts, went for 14 yards and a seven yard average.

Rosa was limited to 20 yards through the air, but, as Coach McGrath pointed out, "our ground game was going good and we were ahead most of the game, so there was no use gambling."

Fumbling Cured

McGrath's efforts last week to amend his team's fumbling ways payed off as the Jeffs bobbled only one during the entire game, as compared with four the previous week.

In other vital statistics the Jeffs amassed 11 first downs, against 12 for the Mateans. In yards rushing the local eleven compiled 202 yards, San Mateo, 142. Through the air the Jeffs racked up only 20 yards, compared with 175 for the opposition. Both teams had two interceptions.

ENGINEER of the Jeffs aerial antics today and Wednesday will be Ray Rosa, one of northern California's leading passers.

Homecoming Game For SMJC Tonight In Redwood City

The football season at San Mateo Junior college will be highlighted by the annual homecoming game tonight with Modesto jaysee Pirates as the opponents. The conference game is set for 8 p.m. in Redwood City. This is the game that attracts special interest on the part of the college alumni who return for the game and other homecoming activities.

Thursday evening the college students led up to the game by having their bonfire rally on the beach at Coyote Point. At that time Homecoming Queen Gayle Tichenor was presented.

Modesto, the opponent this evening, is in second place in the conference and is one of the strongest teams in the Big Seven group.

Defensive-Minded Galileo On Tap For Armistice Day Tilt

Football in a big way will dominate the Armistice Day holiday atmosphere Wednesday at Jefferson High school when the frosh-soph team takes on Capuchino and the varsity engages with a defensive-minded Galileo eleven from San Francisco.

Preceding the two contests at 10:15 a.m. the preps will hold a rally.

In Galileo, the Jeffs will find a stubborn defensive gang that should provide an interesting contest.

At present, Galileo is the top defensive team in San Francisco, allowing only an average of 120 yards per game in six games.

Contrariwise, Jefferson has one of the more efficient yardage gaining machines in the PAL, averaging about 225 yards on offense per game

Expected to break up the tight tactics of the Galileo defense, will be the arm of Quarterback Ray Rosa. While the Jefferson ground game has been fair-to-middlin' so far, Rosa's aerials have proved the most consistent form of attack.

Coach Joe McGrath expects to mix up his offensive to open up the Galilean's defensive wall.

The Jefferson lads, themselves, have not been slouches in the defensive department, allowing only an average of 125 yards per game.

In scoring, the Indians have amassed 111 points in five games, giving their opponents only 66 points.

In only one contest, that against Capuchino, have the Indians failed to tally less than three times.

This fact, coupled with the Galileo defensive threat, bids fair to make Wednesday's game a top-rate pigskin offering.

Jefferson high senior class students plan to provide box lunches, cokes, potato chips, candy and coffee for Wednesday's game. The student body has hopes that many members of the community will turn out for the two athletic events. Admission price is $1.

The frosh-soph encounter will begin at 11 a.m., followed by the varsity game at 1:30 p.m.

Sarto A.C., Gigli On Top In Rec Basketball Play

Sarto A. C. and Atlas Roofing remained at the top of the pack in the recreation department Adult Basketball league this week.

Hoyt Water Heaters was dumped two successive games, Thursday and Monday, to bring up the rear with an 0-2 record.

Against Atlas Thursday, the Hoyt five was humiliated, 61 to 21. Harvey Cranon led Atlas scoring with 21 markers, 17 made in the last half. Norm McKenzie hit 20 for Hoyt.

The Hoyt-Gigli Plumbing contest again found the former on the short end, dropping an evenly-matched 53-50 decision to the plumbers.

Marty Heise, for Hoyt, led all scorers with 16 points, while Dick Farley and Jim Wong dropped in 12 and 13, respectively, for Gigli.

Mrs. Dowd, Grade Two

First and Second Grades
Mrs. Medzian, Teacher

The boys and girls in Mrs. Medzian's class had fun decorating the room for the mothers' tea. They composed a poem welcoming the mothers to their room and also each child drew a picture of his mother's face. The mothers enjoyed discovering how they appeared to their children.

For social studies, the class is engaged in the study of neighborhood life and workers. Each child drew a picture of the profession he hoped to pursue when he becomes an adult. The boys had varied interests, but most of the girls had visions of being teachers and nurses.

The class recently welcomed two new students. Nancy Ann Mahon, first grade, and Susan Marks, in the second grade.

First Grade
Mrs. Henry, Teacher

Mrs. Henry's first grade made Halloween masks last week.

Gary Clute has returned to school after a week's illness.

Robert Ritchie brought a lizard to school embedded in wax. His grandfather sent it to him from Australia.

Each child in Mrs. Henry's room has a post office box to keep all the daily work in. It is really fun going to the post office each day mailing the work. This is a record to keep for mothers coming in to see what the children are doing.

First Grade
Mrs. Fernekes, Teacher

The school year has started and what a new adventure for the first graders. We now have a full day and play on the playground with the other school children.

It is also wonderful to us because we are learning to read. We all say, "It is fun to read." We are reading about Bill and Susan and of course, we must not forget about Perky and Fuzzy.

Numbers now mean something to us and we have learned to count.

We have drawn pictures of ourselves and our families which teacher thinks are great.

We also made Halloween masks and lanterns to help celebrate the holiday.

Now, about ourselves, we have two sets of cousins in our room—Eloise Pardini and Paul Hufo in one set and Michael Franges and Leon Franges in the other set.

Jeffrey Keck has a new baby sister. John Hutchinson and Paul Tufo both have birthdays this week.

First Grade
Miss Strauch, Teacher

The boys and girls in Room one have been drawing and coloring pictures.

Two groups have completed reading the first pre-primer "Bill and Susan."

Don Woodruff is leaving Westlake school the end of the week. The Woodruffs will live in Manila.

During October the class sang "Happy Birthday" to the following boys and girls: Roselle Fishel, Donna Marie Haas, Carol Ann Lewis, Gary Lieberman, Nancy Ragghianti, Skippy Tozzi, and Don Woodruff.

First Grade
Mrs. Maine, Teacher

This children in Mrs. Maine's first grade are studying about the home as a unit in social studies. Several experience charts are being written by the children about members of their families and parts of their homes. The children are planning to construct a living room for their house as a culmination of the unit on the home.

During the month of October, the children made unique masks from paper mache. Pumpkins were also made from the same medium as a center of interest for their room.

Happy Birthday to Marlene Lucas whose birthday is November 1, and Thomas Tregenza whose birthday is November 19.

Sally Olsen is a new pupil in Westlake school. She entered September 21.

To brighten our science corner, the children made laminated paper butterflies.

All of the children have improved in their reading, writing and arithmetic. The names of the books that are being read by the children are: "Under the Tree," "The New We Work and Play," and "Skip Along."

Isn't It Time You Brought An Apple To the Teacher?

VISIT YOUR SCHOOLS DURING

NOVEMBER 8 14

American Education Week has been specially set aside to give you a real opportunity to get acquainted with the teachers, principals and supervisors who play such an important role in your children's lives. Through them you'll get to know the special problems that face your community's educational system.

Here's an excellent chance to learn just how you can help your schools give your children the best education possible. Do you personally know the unselfish men and women who have dedicated the best years of their lives to teaching your children? Are you giving your P.T.A. the kind of support this fine organization deserves? Are you taking a live and vital interest in the activities of your school board? Do you have some special talent, skill or knowledge that might benefit your school system?

The answers to these questions and to the many problems affecting our schools can be found only if you know your schools. And the best way to discover how you can help solve these problems is by visiting your children's schools.

For in the last analysis you determine the kind of education your children will get. Good schools are your responsibility. Visit your schools during American Education Week, November 8-14.
